One of the most fascinating things about the modern age we live in is the population of journalists almost exclusively being from mega rich families and the fact they have done such a good job of hiding it from the internet.

The most extreme case of this is Carlos Maza. Right out of Wake Forrest University he worked for Vox pushing extreme left wing views & targeting anyone on the right no matter how poor or middle class.

What almost no one knew was he was a billionaire.Image

Maza was raised in a $10.8 million dollar mansion in Boca Raton, FL.Image

Nothing. A complete memory hole. For almost 10 years he was able to use his massive platform to cancel anyone he saw fit to & abuse his power unchecked.Image

While also born to fabulous wealth & privilege she has the family power to keep her past off the internet even after it became known.

She can actually get it removed forever from the internet.Image

We know she attended a Swiss private boarding school & graduated from Hobart and William Smith College.

But that's about it.Image

Well hold onto your butts while we go balls deep into the family of Ms. Lorenz you can't find on the internet without much much effort.Image

Taylor Lorenz was born to mega rich developer Walter R. Lorenz (65) and Anne Lorenz (67) & raised in a $5.7 million dollar mansion. Her sister is Brook Lorenz of CNN.Image

Taylor Lorenz even had her uncle exempt her twitter account from the WayBackMachine. Once she deletes her tweets they are literally wiped from the internet forever.

Now that's power you can't buyImage

Go ahead... Google her. Go to her wiki page. You see anything there like you do with literally any other public figures? NOPE! Nothing. She's even managed to have any public record of her date of birth wiped. Pics of her from high school or collage that could age her?

Gone.Image

For the record Taylor Lorenz was born October 21st 1984 in New York, NY... making her 37 years old. She will be 38 in 16 days.

Wish her a happy birthday.  Image
